

Jain Farms donates for Tar Road

Jain Farms has already taken up the task of planting trees on road side. Recently, Jain Farms has contributed to tar the mud road between Thalapalli Village up to Karnataka border. We have taken the responsibility to develop the road towards providing better living conditions to the local residents. This is another initiative in our continuing efforts to contribute to society as responsible corporate citizens.

The Ground breaking ceremony : Mr. Arun Kumar's Cottage

On the front of Construction, much has been happening since we published our few issues of 'News Letter'.

For an individual, constructing a cottage in Bagalur, will be quite cumbersome. This is the reason we have set up a team consisting of Professional Architects, expert Engineer and reliable Contractors, which will make customers to realise their dream of making beautiful cottage.

Mr. J. Arun Kumar, our affluent customer, also a Cricketer known as JAK, has just started the work.

Elaborate Security Measures : Gun Man, CCTV, etc, etc,

We are proud to say that since so many years many of our retired customers are staying in Bagalur farms safely & peacefully.

But, recent incidents of Bomb blasts, terrorist activities, etc., all over India should keep everybody and every organization alert. Its better to be safe than sorry. Considering the vastness of Bagalur Project, and more and more customers are willing to stay permanently in Bagalur, we have enforced certain security measures and we are totally equipped with modern security devices.

- 1) We have installed CCTV at the Main gate, Horticulture office, Front office and Restaurant. This has audio & video – facilities.
- 2) In addition to one gun man now, we have added one more gun man who will be patrolling the entire project.
- 3) We have made it compulsory for Members to display membership cards at the main entrance. The plot owners with his own membership card can enter the farm.
- 4) We have issued ID cards for the maids, servants, labourers and contractors who are working in our farms or in resident's House. We have preserved their Biodata and finger prints.

- 5) Public visitors entry is restricted: If somebody wants to visit our farm, they need to fill up visitor pass and purpose of visit, after fulfilling all the details only we allow them inside.
- 6) Our security team Headed by Security Manager Mr. Ramesh is well trained and they are at your beck & call.
- 7) Security guards are equipped with walkie & talkies, so any corner of the farm, you can contact them easily.
- 8) We have purchased Tata Ace – Vehicle which can be used for fire fighting purpose
- 9) Most of our customers Cottage is fitted with ‘alarm’ system and we are insisting for the people who don’t have one
- 10) Jain Farms is encouraging customer to buy walkie & talkies by bearing 50% the cost
- 11) When we are selling land to new customers, we check the background of the customer
- 12) Round the clock, you can contact security personnels and their phone nos. are made available

Be Co-operative with security measure

When security measures are upped for our safety, we are the first to crib about inconvenience. We have to Co-operate without cribbing: Follow the rules & regulations & produce valid membership cards.

All our efforts are to make you & your property safe.

Sight seeing places near Bagalur : “Kaivara”

Under this series, we have taken you to, Golden temple, chikka Tirupathi, Krishnagiri, etc.,

Kaivara is centre for pilgrimage. This place is located in the Chintamani Taluk of Kolar district in Karnataka, a state that is in the south western part of India.

It is about 65 km from Bangalore and about 45 km from Bagalur, Jain Farms. This place is historically significant. It is said that the Pandavas of the great Indian epic Mahabharata lived here during the exile in the forest (Vanavasa). Bheema is said to have killed Bakasura in this place. During the Dwaparayuga this town was known as Ekachakrapura. Narayanappa a famous saint who is popularly known as Kaivara Thathayya in Kannada and Telugu had lived here during last part of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century. The town gets its name from this famous bilingual poet.

An Ashram that is dedicated to this famous saint is a pilgrimage and every year many thousands of pilgrims visit this place. It is fast becoming a tourist spot now.

Best Time to Visit: The best time to visit this place would be between January to March and June to September. In fact from Bangalore you could visit there over a weekend.

Events: An annual music festival on Karnatic music is held in July every year here.
